

Unfolding of Summer and Sport Suits

No one is prepared for midsummer unless she has ready for warm weather a sport suit, or a sport coat that may be worn with skirts of the same character, supplemented by a sweater of sweater-coat. The sport suit has made a place for itself that nothing else can fill. It is not an extravagance even for the woman who believes in reducing her expenditure on clothes to necessities, for the sport suit replaces dressier and less generally wearable clothes. It is smart enough to take the place of afternoon frocks and it remains informal, whatever it is made of. "Suit" is a term that covers the combination of a sport skirt and a sport coat that do not match, as well as skirt and coat of the same material.

A handsome example of the first combination appears in the suit on the left of the two models shown in the picture. In this the skirt is of white satin and is made of one of those new weaves that appear to be better suited to sport skirts than to anything else. It is strong and brilliant. On the overlapped seam at the left side, five large, flat pearl buttons are set near the bottom. Nothing could be done more to emphasize the character of the skirt.

The coat is in the same class as the skirt, and is made of bright green silk tricolette, with sailor collar and band of self-colored embroidery about the bottom. A satin vest worn with it has small pearl buttons, set close together, down the front. Bright green taffeta coats with machine stitching of white silk, and coats crocheted of the green silk in lace designs are noteworthy among the novelties to be worn with white satin or silk sport skirts. All the coats have belts or sashes.

The suit at the right is made of a heavy ribbed silk—skirt and coat of the same material. There are several patterns in these sport silks, some of them in two colors, others in figured designs of one color. Angora cloth is a favorite for embellishing them, placed in bands about the skirt and coat and as cuffs and collars. But many of these suits are untrimmed, as the fanciful fabric makes variety enough. Even in sport suits the vest has made a place for itself, and it appears in this model with cuff at the bottom having six little buttons set along the center. But there are many sport coats that ignore the vogue of vests.

YUCCA

There has been several rains in the hills lately and although but a slight amount has fallen in Yucca, we feel sure we are to have our share later on. The dry season on the desert is sure a season of personal discomfort for man and beast and no one can help rejoicing at the relief brought to everything and every place by a generous rainfall.

Jno. Mullen was in from Chicken Springs. He reports a fine rainfall in that section.

Telly Bland and son Jeff were recent visitors from Signal.

Why Needles as a summer resort? Chas. By met with a painful accident the other day. While working on a car, he caught a forefinger in some cogs, terribly lacerating it. He will not lose the finger, but will have an unpleasant reminder for several days.
